MEDICINAL. STARVED OUT.

Many a garrison has been forced to give up the fight and hang out the white flag of surrender, when lack of food has weakened the men past all power to continue the struggle.

Many a man is similarly starved out of business. His digestion is impaired. His food does not nourish him, and for lack of strength to carry on the struggle he turns his store over to another.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores strength to weak, nervous, run-down men and women.

"About ten years ago I began to be afflicted with stomach trouble, also diarrhoea," writes Mr. Wm. Walters, of Austin, Mo. "In warm weather it grew worse, until it would throw me into a cramping chill. I was troubled so often that I sometimes thought my end had come. Tried many remedies, but they gave only temporary relief. In November, 1899, I bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I got six bottles and took five in succession, then thought I would wait for a time and take the one left. Soon found I had symptoms of the trouble coming back, so took the sixth bottle and it cured me. I have enjoyed the best of health this summer, and the credit all belongs to your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I can't express my many thanks to Dr. Pierce for his remedy, for it did so much for me. Words cannot express how severely I suffered. If any doubt the above statement let them address me, and I will take great pleasure in answering."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

WOMEN IN A MOB.

Stockholders of the New York Building Loan Banking Company, for which Charles M. Preston is temporary receiver, stamped the meeting called at the offices of the company yesterday to vote a stock assessment of 20 per cent. Only 200 of the 400 or 500 present could get into the room where the meeting was held. Those who got in made such an uproar that one of the stockholders, a policeman, telephoned the West Thirtieth street station for the reserves.

When Lawyer James P. Eustace tried to explain the purpose of the call the Protective League of Brooklyn, representing 3,000 stockholders, took charge of the meeting and passed resolutions declaring the call contempt of court, a violation of the injunction of September 12, charging gross mismanagement by the officers and directors, demanding their resignation, and denouncing the State banking authorities for allowing an insolvent banking concern to continue to do business for years.

Outside the building Fifth avenue was almost blocked with the overflow, the fact that some four thousand of the stockholders are Italians being responsible for the presence of hundreds of Italian women, many with babies on the other arm. The large crowd, mostly poor people, clamored for admission to the building, packed the stairways leading to the third floor, and discussed with opprobrium the conduct of the officers and directors.

When as many as possible had entered the room J. P. Eustace, brother of Mark Eustace, vice president of the company, declared that the charge of insolvency made against the company was false. The remark was followed by threats and accusations against the officials, shouted from all parts of the room. The ensuing disorder resulted in the call for the police.

Counsel for the Stockholders' Protective League said the company was in the hands of a receiver and that the officers had no legal right to call the meeting. The announcement was greeted with cries of "Turn the robbers out!" "Make the officers pay the deficit!" "Send them to Sing Sing." "Talk about Miller's syndicate," shouted one man; "why it was a 1, 2, 6 proposition compared to this."

Such scenes as were witnessed around the Constable building during the stormy conflict between the officers of the company and the shareholders have been rare in New York. The striking feature was the apparent poverty of most of the people, a large percentage of whom were women. They all seemed to be convinced that they were the victims of a conspiracy, and every fresh outburst of vituperation against the officers of the concern was bandied about from tongue to tongue. Packed against one another on the stairways, in the entrance to the building, and up in the offices, people exchanged stories of their losses by the investment of money in the company. Many of the tales were pitiful in their expression of destitution caused by the insolvency of the banking business. Expressions of disgust were divided about equally between the management of the company and the State banking authorities, who have permitted it to run so long.

During a lull in the excitement a collection of several dollars was taken up for an Irish woman who said she had lost her savings in the corporation and had recently been dispossessed. Assistant District Attorney Miner announced last night that he had received a letter from the referee, James J. Farren, of Albany, who reported that he had found the reports of the company to the banking company not fully true, and that the charges could be substantiated by documentary evidence in the county clerk's offices in Kings, Queens, New York, and Westchester counties. Mr. Miner said that a rigid investigation would be instituted at once.

DOWIE IN A FRENZY.

When Mr. Dowie opened his meeting last night in Madison Square Garden, New York, he faced an immense throng; when he closed it his audience had dwindled to only a few hundred persons besides the "host" he brought with him from the West. He fretted, fumed, threatened, cajoled, and finally resorted to the use of epithets, his hearers meanwhile leaving the meeting, several hundred together, drowning the sound of his voice. He had announced that last night he would tell "what was revealed to him that he was 'Elijah,'" and also that he would have something to say to the newspapers and their reporters. His talk, which was interspersed with several hymns, at times when the tramp of those leaving the hall was more than his voice could overcome, was devoted chiefly to denunciation of tobacco smokers, liquor per men, all of "dirty dogs" and all times the audience. EMPLOYER'S LIABILITY.—FELLOW-SERVANTS.—The Supreme Court of Indiana held, in the recent case of The Southern Railway Company vs. Harrel, that in keeping the "place" where its employee is working reasonably safe, the employer is under no obligation to guard him against possible dangers that may arise by reason of the negligence or misconduct of his fellow-servants in moving things upon or over such place in carrying forward the master's work, and that a workman building a bridge pier beside a railroad, and as incident thereto assisting in moving heavy stones by means of a derrick, could not recover for an injury due to the raising of a stone by the derrick, while a train was passing, and his co-employees letting go their hold on the same, so that it swung around against the moving train and was thrown upon the plaintiff.
